Amanda McAbee Audit Manager

Amanda launched her career with BG&C in 1999 after getting her Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from the University of South Carolina Upstate.

As the audit manager, her primary function is to coordinate the activities within the audit department. By planning and directing auditing tasks, financial records can thoroughly be examined for accuracy. An audit manager is required to keep tight implemented controls over financial reports in order to maintain a high level of integrity. Thus, an audit department's responsibility is to ensure transparency through its financial reports by complying with policies, laws and regulations. Additionally, she must perform conduct investigations necessary to determine allegations of fraud. Whatever uncovered during an inspection, is the audit manager's duty to report the matter to the appropriate authorities.

Amanda is an active participant and member of the American Planning Association South Carolina Chapter (SCACPA) and of the American Institute of CPAs (AICPA).

As a Spartanburg local, she encompasses dignity and loyalty towards the Upstate of South Carolina. Married with two daughters, consider the value she rests on family to be immaculate. Outside enjoyments include participating in church activities and/or spending time with her family. Most distinctly, her co-workers are the most outstanding features of her job.
